KAUAI MAY HAVE Y. M. C. A. SYSTEM

Lloyd R. Killam, of the Honolulu Y. M. C. A. came up on the Kinau Wednesday morning to lay the foundation for Y. M. C. A. work on this island. While here he was the guest of Rev. J. M. Lydgate, and returned to the city Saturday night.

In general, it is proposed to organize the movement, with branches for work in all of the towns of the island. An experienced man will be placed in charge.

The expense of the system will be in the neighborhood of $2500 a year, plus such receipts as there may later be from dues, etc. The plan for raising this money is not yet complete.

Mr. Killam left feeling quite enthusiastic over the prospects. Following are some extracts from authorities on the subject of rural Y. M. C. A. work:

RURAL WORK OF THE Y. M. C. A.

"There should be a large extension of the work of the Y. M. C. A. into the rural communities. There is apparently no other way to grip the hearts and lives of the boys and young men of the average country neighborhood."

From Country Life Commission.

"I invite your attention to what the Commission says—of the need of an extension of such work as that of the Young Men's Christian Association in country communities. Let me lay special emphasis upon what the commission say at the very end of its report on personal ideals and local leadership. Everything resolves itself in the end into the question of personality."

President Roosevelt's Comment on the report.

Principles of Organization and Methods of Approach.

"County work is not an attempt to build up a new organization. Its program is based on the recognition that the primary institutions of country life are the home, the school and the church. It recognizes the fact that these institutions so fundamental to the wholesomeness and efficiency of rural life are often functioning very inadequately. It finds its largest challenge in supplementing their efforts."

"The vitality of the movement is in the personality and leadership capacity of the rural secretary. He is usually the fittest type of college man, often not only a college graduate, but also with some special training. He is a man who loves country life and believes in the country. He is usually a man of large capacity for leadership with a broad knowledge of human nature and a fine friendliness as well as an earnest Christian purpose and a great longing to help country boys and young men to well developed Christian manhood."
